

Appendix to the Contexts of School Librarian Employment

January 26, 2021

Debra E. Kachel & Keith Curry Lance

The complete responses by state are included in this Appendix (page numbers noted below) and accompany the Contexts of School Librarian Employment report. Please note that a school library leader in the state’s library or education agency or library association provided these responses. Most responses have not been further vetted by the SLIDE researchers. The summary report using this data can be found at <https://libslide.org/pubs/contexts.pdf>.

Corrections: Questions 3: Does your state have certification requirements for school librarians?

Although Colorado, Connecticut, Idaho, Louisiana, and Rhode Island responded “NO” to this question, their states do have certification or endorsement processes, but they are not consistently treated as requirements.

Yes,

If yes, please provide a link to the latest data or identify the agency or organization and, if possible, provide a contact name, e-mail address, and phone number.:

It's part of a larger technology document and there is no definition of librarian. Anyone working in a library could call themselves a librarian and anyone filling it out could call the person a librarian because they don't know any better.

North Carolina -Added Comment

Q6 Does any state agency or organization regularly collect school and/or district-level data about school librarian employment?

NC's Digital Learning Media Inventory (DLMI) considers someone to be a licensed school library media coordinator (NCDPI's title for school librarian) if s/he has a 076 license. The DLMI has 2 questions regarding SLMC positions in our state. One asks for those with 076 licensure and the other asks for those without 076 licensure. So, the DLMI does distinguish between a licensed SLMC and unlicensed. Of course, the DLMI is subject to human error and is self-reported by our districts, but it does differentiate between licensed librarians and others working in a library who may call themselves librarians (or be called librarians by others). Here is the correct URL for the DLMI: <https://sites.google.com/dpi.nc.gov/dlmi>

Additionally, the Division of Digital Teaching and Learning in the NC Department of Public Instruction (NCDPI) collects annual data from NCDPI's finance department on SLMC positions noted in the state's system based on payroll codes. These should be only certified/licensed SLMCs. However, this data is also flawed because it is dependent on district HR personnel using the payroll code that is designated for a licensed SLMC. So, while flawed, it does provide a snapshot and data to compare to the DLMI responses.

Q2

Has your state adopted standards or guidelines for school library programs?

Neither standards nor guidelines,

If yes, please enter a link to the standards or guidelines document.:

The Library of Michigan and the School Library Workgroup has developed the "School Libraries for the 21st Century Measurement Benchmarks (SL 21)" (a tool to help measure the quality of School Library programs within individual school buildings in Michigan). But, these benchmarks have not been approved or adopted by the Michigan Department of Education.

MICHIGAN _ ADDED COMMENTS

Q2 Has your state adopted standards or guidelines for school library programs?

The School Libraries in the 21st Century \(SL 21\) Program: Qualitative Benchmarks for Michigan School Libraries have been approved by the Library of Michigan Board of Trustees and the State Board of Education, but as the respondent noted, not adopted into the Michigan school code.

Q4 Does your state have any legal requirements for school librarian staffing?

Yes, the state does have legal requirements for school library staffing. The nuance is that there is not a legal requirement for a school library. If there is a school library, the school librarian must have a teaching certificate and an “All subjects” endorsement at the elementary level, and a teaching certificate and an ND endorsement (essentially a Master’s degree in library science from an accredited school) at the middle and high school levels. There is additional guidance from MDE on the duties that can be assigned to a school librarian vs. a school library paraprofessional.

School Performance Report Cards includes data on numbers of SLMS in school districts. However, the data is per district and not per individual school and it is listed as an average number of students to school library media specialists. This can be misleading since the average of SLMS to students is then divided by district and not the individual school.

Missouri

Q2

Has your state adopted standards or guidelines for school library programs?

Yes, guidelines,

If yes, please enter a link to the standards or guidelines document.:

<https://dese.mo.gov/college-career-readiness/curriculum/library-media-centers>

Q3

Does your state have certification requirements for school librarians?

Yes,

If yes, please enter a link to a document describing the certification requirements.:

The current Library Media Specialist K-12 requirements, 5 CSR 20-400.550, may be viewed at the following website: <https://www.sos.mo.gov/cmsimages/adrules/csr/current/5csr/5c20-400.pdf>. The library content requirements may be found on page 37, section 7. The education requirements are contained in section (B) on page 36.

Q4

Does your state have any legal requirements for school librarian staffing?

No

Q5

Does your state have a state government employee assigned specifically to work with school libraries?

No,

Comment:

No, not specifically. Currently, this work is being done voluntarily through the Office of College and Career Readiness, as they are overseeing the SB 743 requirements through the office of the ELA assistant director.

Q6

Does any state agency or organization regularly collect school and/or district-level data about school librarian employment?

Yes,

If yes, please provide a link to the latest data or identify the agency or organization and, if possible, provide a contact name, e-mail address, and phone number.:

The Missouri Department of Elementary & Secondary Education (DESE) collects all the same data for school librarians that is collected for teachers. The only difference is school librarians do not have students attached to them because they have “non-teaching” assignments, so would not be linked to any student data. “Media personnel” are identified with a position code of 40, which is how librarians are coded. The non-teaching course assignments for librarians can be found below. DESE collects data in regards to pay, years of experience, demographics, certification, etc. To obtain specific data, a data request (link below) for the information would need to be submitted. <https://apps.dese.mo.gov/DataRequestForm/DataRequest.aspx> Below are links to the collections that are submitted to DESE. 884000 High School Librarian 884097 Library Supervisor 884098 Librarian Departmental Duties 884100 Learning Resource Director 884200 Junior High Librarian 884400 Middle School Librarian 884600 Elementary Librarian

Q7

Does your state provide direct funding to school libraries for any purpose? (Example: New York provides $6.25 per student directly to each school library.)

Yes,

If yes, please identify the state agency responsible (and, if possible, provide a contact name, e-mail address, and phone number) OR provide a link to the statute or law that authorizes the school library funding.:

The only funding is facilitated through the Missouri Secretary of State’s office, which provides Missouri libraries several opportunities to improve library service through the use of federal Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA) funds. These grants are based on LSTA priorities and Missouri State Library goals as approved in the LSTA five-year and state fiscal year project plans. More information may be found at <https://www.sos.mo.gov/library/development/lstagrants>.

Q8

Does your state government provide access to licensed databases or other subscription-based e-resources, including e-books, to all schools in your state?

Other (please specify):

The state library has added to the overdrive consortium overseen by MOREnet the last two years (which was used to add ebooks to the collection). Schools pay for this service though, it isn't "provided". Schools with MOREnet membership have access to the licensed databases and resources but again, they pay for the service.

If yes, please identify the state agency responsible (and, if possible, provide a contact name, e-mail address, and phone number) OR provide a link to the statute or law that authorizes the school library funding.:

The $6.25 is the state formula for funding but if a county does not have the funds for libraries or librarians then they do not have to have them. Libraries are funded by the county if the county has passed a levy. If the county levy does not pass then many of them have simply done away with their libraries and librarians. So my county, Marion, has passed it's levy without fail for the last 70 years, but Preston and Wetzel counties levies failed-so no libraries.

Oklahoma State Department of Education Standard VII.
Note: a new law suspends the budget requirement for libraries in years with revenue failures and requires multiple years of non-failure before schools are required to allocate funds to libraries. (p. 21) https://cdn.education.ne.gov/wp-content/uploads/2017/10/CLEANRULE10\_2015LD.pdf Media and Technology Resources 006.01 Quality Indicator: The library/media/technology program provides a wide range of accessible print and electronic resources that expand opportunity for learning, contribute to information literacy, support the local curriculum, and enhance and enrich learning experiences for all students. 006.01A Each school has a library media area(s) which is available to students during the entire school day. All library media resources are properly cataloged, marked, and shelved according to a standard classification system. Each school has at least one set of encyclopedia available in either print or electronic format with copyright dates in the past five years. 006.01B Each elementary school acquires a minimum of 25 new library media resources in print format, exclusive of textbooks and encyclopedia, of different titles, per teacher per year, up to 150 titles during one year. The minimum number of new titles in print format is 75 if library media resources are also available through electronic format. Each middle and high school acquires a minimum of 150 titles each year in either print or in full text electronic format. 006.01C Each middle level school subscribes to at least ten periodicals either in print or in full text electronic format. 006.01D Each secondary school subscribes to at least 25 periodicals in print or in full text electronic format. Quality Indicator: The library/media/technology programs and services are an integral part of the instructional program. Library/media staff provide leadership and assistance in selection, provision, and use of library/media resources. Technology staff and services are available locally or in collaboration with other agencies to provide support, maintenance, consultation, and training for meaningful use of technology resources.

Q3

Does your state have certification requirements for school librarians?

Yes,

If yes, please enter a link to a document describing the certification requirements.:

Q6

Does any state agency or organization regularly collect school and/or district-level data about school librarian employment?

Yes,

If yes, please provide a link to the latest data or identify the agency or organization and, if possible, provide a contact name, e-mail address, and phone number.:

The Nebraska Department of Education collects information on school librarians in each school/district as it is a state rule requirement for accreditation. Dorann Avey may be able to give you the numbers from the Dept of Ed. Contact info in question #5. The Educational Service Units collect information on all teaching positions in the state including school librarians. The Nebraska Educational Service Units (ESUs) are intermediate agencies providing supplementary educational services to school districts in Nebraska. ESU Contact List: <https://cdn.education.ne.gov/wp-content/uploads/2020/05/Educational-Service-Units.pdf> The Nebraska Library Commission also collects contact information for all school librarians in the state. Q7

Does your state provide direct funding to school libraries for any purpose? (Example: New York provides $6.25 per student directly to each school library.)

No,

If yes, please identify the state agency responsible (and, if possible, provide a contact name, e-mail address, and phone number) OR provide a link to the statute or law that authorizes the school library funding.:

No direct funding to school libraries themselves. Each school/district allocates funds to their libraries. Some state funds go to the ESUs and Regional Library Systems that are then used to support the school libraries/librarians.

Yes,

If yes, please provide a link to the latest data or identify the agency or organization and, if possible, provide a contact name, e-mail address, and phone number.:

The Office of the State Board of Education maintains data on those school staff members whose title identifies them as library staff. Those staff members whose titles are listed as a paraprofessional or teaching aide, however, are not included on this list, regardless of where they work in the school. Mike Keckler at Mike.Keckler@osbe.idaho.gov is the Chief Communications and Legislative Affairs Officer. His phone number is (208)332-1591. He may also be able to provide more information about the data they collect on this topic.

Q7

Does your state provide direct funding to school libraries for any purpose? (Example: New York provides $6.25 per student directly to each school library.)

No,

If yes, please identify the state agency responsible (and, if possible, provide a contact name, e-mail address, and phone number) OR provide a link to the statute or law that authorizes the school library funding.:

There is no line item in Idaho's allocation to K-12 education for school libraries. There are some state-funded grant funds available for elementary libraries, however, through the Idaho Commission for Libraries.

Q8

Does your state government provide access to licensed databases or other subscription-based e-resources, including e-books, to all schools in your state?

The state provides free access to a selection of licensed e-resources for all schools.

Right now I hold this position in addition to being Director of the Library Services Division. If the legislature follows the governor's recommendation this biennium, we will be able to hire a full-time School Library Specialist.

Q6

Does any state agency or organization regularly collect school and/or district-level data about school librarian employment?

Yes,

If yes, please provide a link to the latest data or identify the agency or organization and, if possible, provide a contact name, e-mail address, and phone number.:

DPI collects data through our Licensed School Staff Report. Here is some additional information: Jill Frohlich can pull this information: her email is Frohlich, Jill M.; jmfrohlich@nd.gov. CC her supervisor Ross Roemmich as well in the request: Roemmich, Ross K. rkroemmich@nd.gov. I can give you some more insight into this if you want to call me.

Q7

Does your state provide direct funding to school libraries for any purpose? (Example: New York provides $6.25 per student directly to each school library.)

No

Q8

Does your state government provide access to licensed databases or other subscription-based e-resources, including e-books, to all schools in your state?

Other (please specify):

At the moment we only have Federal dollars through IMLS to apply toward databases. The state did pay some in the past, but this was cut in a budget shortfall.

TEXAS – ADDED COMMENT

Q 8 Does your state government provide access to licensed databases or other subscription-based e-resources, including e-books, to all schools in your state?

Texas provides electronic resources (TexQuest) for K-12 public school district and open enrollment charter schools, 70% of the cost is paid for by the Texas State Legislature. There is a participation fee but it is minimal (29 cents per student) and only provides about 20% of funds to purchase the resources.
